

CAPITAL DEFENDER OFFICE

MISSION

Established simultaneously with the 1995 restoration of the death penalty, the Capital Defender Office is authorized to defend any indigent person charged with a capital crime. Under the restored death penalty legislation, persons convicted of first-degree murder could be sentenced to death by lethal injection, life imprisonment without parole, or 20 to 25 years in prison. To be sentenced to death, a person must be found guilty of first-degree murder, which includes the killing of a police officer, killing for hire or certain other heinous murders.

The Capital Defender Office ensures that offenders who face the death penalty receive the full legal protection to which they are entitled under law. The Office is required to provide legal, investigative and expert services to indigent defendants charged with crimes eligible for the death penalty. Since not all defendants in capital cases will be represented by the Office, the law also requires the Office to set minimum standards for lawyers appointed to defend such cases, provide training and assistance to these attorneys and provide judges with lists of qualified lawyers.

ORGANIZATION AND STAFFING

A three-member Board oversees the work of the Office. The Board members are appointed, one each by the Temporary President of the Senate, the Speaker of the Assembly and the Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals. The Office will have a staff of 59 located in a central office in New York City and regional offices in Albany and Rochester.

FISCAL BACKGROUND AND BUDGET HIGHLIGHTS

The Executive Budget recommendation provides a total of nearly $12.3 million in State tax dollars to fund the actual cost of providing death penalty defense in 2005-06. These funds will support the Agency's staff attorneys, investigators and experts as well as legal aid societies and private attorneys appointed to represent indigent defendants in capital cases. A portion of this funding will become available upon passage of a statute which addresses the issues raised by the Court of Appeals in its June 2004 decision regarding the State's death penalty.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Since 1995, there have been a total of 857 capital-eligible cases and 58 notices of intent to seek the death penalty filed by the State's district attorneys. Due in part to progress made in reducing violent crime, the number of capital-eligible cases has declined from 138 in 1996 to 53 in 2004. Similarly, the number of intent to seek death penalty notices filed has declined from 13 in 1996 to 8 in 2004.

On June 24, 2004 the New York Court of Appeals determined that the deadlock provision of the death penalty statute was unconstitutional. The Court also directed that first degree murder charges could not proceed as capital cases absent the statute being repaired by the Legislature. If the Legislature fails to enact a statute that addresses the issues raised by the Court, there will no longer be any reason for the continued existence of the Capital Defender Office.
